ARMISTICE SEEN NEAR IN GUATEMALA WAR

DEVIL ON THE LOOSE—The Devils River boils over the lower dam, six miles north of the Rio Grande and approximately 10 miles northwest of Del Rio, Texas. The raging river joins the Rio Grande above Del Rio, adding to the flood that is the greatest in the modern history of the valley.

Laredo Fights For Life In Face Of Great Flood

LAREDO, Tex. (AP)—This border city fought for its life today in the greatest Rio Grande flood in history while 85 miles up the river tremendous loss of life was feared at Piedras Negras, Mexico.

Nearly 100 miles north of the river, at Ozona, Tex., 16 persons were dead and one was missing in a flash flood like several Sunday which gorged the Rio Grande out of its banks.

The madly rushing waters—which rose at a rate of three feet per hour—snatched at the lives and possessions of some 163,000 persons in four cities yesterday. But last night, police at Eagle Pass across from Piedras Negras said the river there was back in its banks.

Of the possible loss of life at Piedras Negras, a state highway patrolman indicated it might reach into the hundreds.

"But we don't have any definite number," the patrolman said, adding:

"I'm sure there were a lot of lives lost. They are in awful bad shape over there. Water went over the roofs of two-story houses."

He said he believed reports of 50 dead in the little Mexican city would be "grossly exaggerated."

"However," he said, "there are signs that a terrible lot of people took an awful beating."

As the river returned to its banks at Eagle Pass and its sister city of Piedras Negras, the big fight against the floodwaters centered at Laredo and Nuevo Laredo.

Mayor Joe Martin Jr., of Laredo said a 58-foot level had been reached shortly after 1 a.m. He said the International Bridge, a vital link on the Pan-American Highway to Mexico City, was still intact. It was reported under about 18 feet of water.

"We believe we have everything under control," Martin said. "We have evacuated or changed the sleeping locations of about 1,000 people."

Joseph Nunan Found Guilty On Tax Count

NEW YORK (AP) — Joseph D. Nunan Jr., once the nation's top tax collector, has been found guilty of income tax evasion.

A Brooklyn federal court jury convicted the former commissioner of internal revenue yesterday on all five counts of an indictment charging him with evading payment of $91,086 for the years 1946 through 1950.

The 55-year-old Nunan faces a possible total sentence of 25 years in jail and a $50,000 fine. He was continued in $1,500 bail pending sentencing July 22.

Federal Judge Walter Bruchhausen told the jury of seven women and five men the verdict was "justified by the evidence."

Nunan, an appointee of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, served as the nation's No. 1 tax collector rfom 1944 to 1947, when he resigned to return to the private practice of law.

The indictment charged him with reporting income of $416,144 for 1946-1950, when it actually was $543,396. He thus paid taxes of $200,437, when he should have paid $291,523, the government said.

The defense contended the money on which he was accused of failing to pay taxes was inherited by his wife and was not subject to tax.

Nunan claimed he withdrew his assets of $170,000 from the bank in 1933 and kept the money in a tin box, banking it again in 1940.

Calf Wanders Onto Road, Killed By Truck

A year-old bull calf that wandered out on Highway 534, five miles north of Berlin Center, at 10:45 p.m. Monday, was struck and killed by a truck operated by William Arb of 2204 E. State St.

Arb said he didn't see the calf until he was upon it. It was dark and the calf seemed to come out of a roadside ditch, he said.

The van delivery truck Arb was driving struck the calf with its right front, smashing the truck considerably.

Tax Cut Vote Scheduled Today

GOP Leaders Ponder Substitute Proposal

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republicans today decided to offer a general income tax cut plan of their own in an effort to head off a broader reduction amendment sponsored by Senate Democrats.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sensitive to the political implications involved, Senate Republicans leaders pondered today whether to offer a substitute of their own if they find they don't have the votes to defeat a Democratic-sponsored income tax cut proposal.

A showdown vote on the Democratic proposal—calling for a $100 boost in the $600 personal income tax exemption—was due sometime during the afternoon. The issue was very much in doubt.

Sen. Millikin (R-Colo), chief signal caller for the legislation, summoned the 48 Republican senators into a closed-door strategy session just half an hour before the Senate was scheduled to meet.

He was expected to count noses then to see if there would be enough GOP defections to put over the Democratic move.

If so, it was considered likely the Republican leadership would come up with a compromise plan. The possibility mentioned most prominently was a proposed $20 cut for each taxpayer—$40 for a man and wife filing a joint return. This would be figured as a credit on tax returns. The Democrats once considered this plan.

The Democratic proposal is being offered as an amendment to the administration's general tax revision bill, a measure described by President Eisenhower as the cornerstone of his 1954 legislative program.

The over-all bill provides for $1,477,000,000 in assorted tax benefits for both individuals and corporations in the first year.

The administration arues that the bill embodies a balanced tax program as it now stands and that the Treasury cannot stand any further revenue loss at this time.

But some Democrats contend most of the benefits would go to the wealthy and the big corporations. They say a general tax cut should be written in, both as a matter of fairness and to boost mass purchasing power.

Fire Chief Urges Water Main Project

Fire Chief Clarence Wright today recommended the installation of a new water main before downtown State St. is re-paved.

The chief, in letters to the city utilities commission and the safety director, urged that the existing main, which he says is at least 50 years old, be replaced before the thoroughfare is paved.

He said the 10-inch main should be checked before the new paving is laid because the main provides the water for fighting fires in the downtown business district.

Installation of a new main, Chief Wright said, would avoid tearing up the street later if a break should occur. "For the best interests of the city I think the main should be replaced at the present time," the chief said.

Oppenheimer Plea Voted Down by AEC

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission has nailed down the ban against atomic pioneer J. Robert Oppenheimer with a 4-1 declaration that he is unfit to handle America's nuclear secrets because of "defects of character . . . and dangerous associations."

The commission thus closed out late yesterday its role in a long and wordy legal battle with the 50-year-old physicist who was once one of its most trusted advisers.

What the next act would bring was unclear. Neither Oppenheimer nor his attorneys were saying what steps, if any, they contemplated. one unanswered question: Would he appeal to President Eisenhower?

Has Declined Comment

The President has declined comment in the case since, on his orders, Oppenheimer's security clearance was suspended last December.

Oppenheimer appealed then, and the AEC set up a special security panel to consider his case. It heard 38 witnesses, including Oppenheimer, and on May 27 voted 2-1 against him.

Oppenheimer, in New York last night after the commission released its decision upholding the board's ruling, had no direct comment on the majority report.

But he voiced confidence in the will of America's scientists to "work faithfully to preserve and strenthen this country." And he praised Dr. Henry D. Smyth, the only commissioner to recommend reinstatement of his security clearance, as having rendered a "fair and considered statement."

Three Sign Report

The majority report was signed by AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss and Commissioners Eugene M. Zuckert and Joseph Campbell, both of whom appended statements of their own.

Commissioner Thomas E. Murray, agreing with them that Oppenheimer should be denied access to secrets, wrote a separate opinion which said: "Dr. Oppenheimer was disloyal" in the sense that he disregarded security regulations.

But Dr. Smyth, a Princeton scientist who woked with Oppenheimer in wartime development of the atomic bomb, strenuously disagreed with his four colleagues.

"He is completely loyal," wrote Smyth, "and I do not believe he is a security risk."

In Congress, Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-NY), chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, said he sees no reason to challenge the commission's decision. He said there had ben no request for any move by the committee, which keeps tabs on commission activities.

Oppenheimer, now director of a private research group called the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton, N.J., winds up his career as an AEC consultant today, with expiration of his contract.

The security board which weighed his case last spring heard a half-million words of testimony

Steel Firms OK Pay Boost

Pension, Insurance Programs Adopted

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The CIO United Steelworkers had pen and ink ready today for basic steel producers to follow the lead o U. S. Steel Corp. and sign contracts giving 600,000 men a 5-cent-an-hour pay boost, higher pensions and improved insurance programs.

U. S. Steel, employing 190,000 USW members and usually the contract pace setter for the industry, was first to sign yesterday.

Bethlehem Co. Agrees

A few hours later the second largest producer, Bethlehem Steel Co., agreed to the same basic settlement and said it would sign for its 80,000 employes in New York today. Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., the fourth largest producer with about 25,000 USW employes, signed the same agreement as U.S. Steel.

A spokesman for the big union headed by David J. McDonald said all other basic steel producers with which the union has contracts expiring at midnight tonight are expected to be in the fold soon. He explained they could either formally sign contracts or memorandum that they will agree to the basic pattern established by U. S. Steel.

Effective Tomorrow

Average hourly rates under th new U. S. Steel contract, which runs for two years, will be from $2.19 to $2.29. The 5-cent hike be comes effective tomorrow.

U. S. Steel said its starting rate will become $1.57 an hour "and the present spread of 5½ cents (an hour) between job classes is retained. . . ."

The insurance and pension benefits take effect next Nov. 1. The insurance program will be frozen at its new level two years and the pension plan for three years.

U. S. Steel explained its pension setup this way:

It now pays a minimum pension of $10 a month to employes with 25 years service. This includes federal social security. Under the new plan, an employe retiring at 65 with 30 years of service will get a minimum pension of $140 monthly, including social security. And the agreement calls for retention of the present differential if social security benefits are boosted.

U. S. Steel workers and the corporation each will pay an additional 2 cents an hour for the improved insurance program. Under the old plan, the company paid 2½ cents an hour and the employes the same.

The union estimates the pension improvements will cost about 5 cents an hour for each worker. There was no comment from U. S. Steel on this. Sources close to both industry and union say the cost may vary with different steel companies, dependin on the type of pension plan now in effect.

Millions Of Persons Watch Eclipse Of Sun

By The Associated Press

A spectacular total eclipse of the sun swept across the top third of the world from the farmlands of Nebraska to hte plains of India today.

The sun was a fourth eclipsed when it rose and within 15 minutes, the moon shadow had blotted half the sun from view.

At 5:07 Central Standard Time, the moon shadow completely obscured the sun and an eerie dusk fell across a path 70 miles wide.

Millions watched the celestial spectacle as the sun broke from behind the moon. The first razor-thin crescent of sunlight splashing an astounding amount of light on the path of totality.

Fireman Back On Job, Gets Full Salary

City Fireman Daniel Papic of 274 N. Ellsworth Ave., suspended from the department a week ago for seven days on an insubordination charge, was back at work today with what was apparently a seven-day paid vacation.

In his paycheck, disbursed today at City Hall for the half-month pay period, Fireman Papic was paid the full amount.

Mayor Cranmer, who suspended the fireman on recommendation of Chief Clarence W. Wright, said Papic was paid in full because the payroll had already been made out and signed before a directive from the Civil Service Commission was received by the auditor's office.

Papic will have a hearing before the commission, the mayor said, on an appeal of the suspension.

However, Roy Harris, commission clerk, said this morning to his knowledge no written appeal had been lodged with the commission.

SO LONG, WINNIE—British Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill boards a plane in Washington, D. C., as his five-day conference with President Eisenhower ends. Before leaving for Ottawa, Canada, Churchill told reporters the talks proved that U. S.-British unity is "unbroken and unbreakable."

Churchill, Ike Reveal Few Signs Of Plans To Save Indochina

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lawmakers found few tangible signs today in a statement by President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Churchill of any immediate new American-British effort to save Indochina and her neighbors from the Reds.

Churchill said here on his departure for Ottawa yesterday that his five-day talks with Eisenhower had shown the unity of English-speaking peoples is "unbroken and unbreakable."

"I am sure that if we hold together, with all those who come to help us from every land and clime, then we shall be able not only to save ourselves but also to preserve the cause of freedom in the world," he declared.

There was in Congress general agreement with this and approval of the Eisenhower-Churchill statement of principles issued shortly before Churchill left. But some senators professed to see more importance in the remark of British Foreign Minister Eden that the conference of leaders had laid the foundations "for the work we have yet to do."

Sen. George of Georgia, senior Democrat on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in an interview he believed that "some good was accomplished by the conference, but the British haven't changed their minds."

George added he thinks the British remain unconvinced that united action is possible or desirable in Southeast Asia and are resigned to French concessions to the Communist-led rebels in Viet Nam.

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) commented

Council Acts On State St. Paving Work

Salem City Council, in a special meeting Tuesday night, gave first reading to an ordinance supplementing the state-drafted ordinance relative to the re-paving of downtown State St.

The new ordinance declares, 'Upon completion of the State St. improvement project, parking will be continued in a parallel manner on both sides of the street."

It was drawn up to prevent the city from establishing diagonal parking on the street after it has been imrpoved and widened.

The state had requested Council to pass the ordinance and return it to Columbus by the end of the month. However, due to the absence of Councilmen Louis Colian and William Stark, the necessary number of votes could not be mustered last night to pass the act under suspension of rules.

Council President James Aldom scheduled a brief meeting at 12:15 p.m. today to hear the ordinance a second time, and the measure will be given final reading and passed at a session tomorrow.

The planned discussion of Salem's sewage project financing was not held last night.

The paving of State St. between Lincoln and Ellsworth Avenues on a state-city project is not expected to commence before mid-September. The Highway Department, which will pave the three-block section with concrete, is bearing 80 per cent of the cost on the improvement.

Monzon's Junta Starts Roundup Of Communists

GUATEMALA (AP) — Guatemala's 12-day civil war appeared at an end today, with communism and President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman the losers.

Rebel chief Carlos Castillo Armas and Col. Elfego Monzon, head of the current military government were expected to meet in neighboring El Salvador today or tomorrow — as soon as Castillo Armas could get there — to work out details of an armistice and a new government.

May Form New Junta

Diplomats here in the Guatemalan capital believed the two — anti-Communists both — would join in still another new governing junta. The general feeling was that Castillo Armas could dictate his own terms.

Monzon's four-man junta, which took over in the capital before dawn yesterday, already had launched a roundup of Communists. Arbenz and most of the top Reds escaped for the moment, taking refuge in the Mexican Embassy. Many lesser leftists and fellow travelers were among the first to denounce communism and cheer, "We have won."

Ready To Discuss Terms

(The rebel's rear headquarters said late yesterday Castillo Armas was ready to discuss truce terms but insisted on assurance that the anti-Communist drive would continue.)

The Vatican's nuncio to Guatemala, Msgr. Gennaro Verolino, agreed to be the third party at the armistice conference.

Though no formal cease-fire had been proclaimed from either side, all fighting was believed to have halted. Latest information in the capital said the rebels held the state of Zacapa and Chiquimala, as well as Puerto Barrios, the country's chief port on the Caribbean.

It was generally conceded that the army's resistance to Castillo's forces had collapsed.

Hails 'First Victory'

U.S. Ambassador John Peurifoy, who played a major advisory role in the rapid government shifts, described the outcome as "our first victory" against communism in the Western Hemisphere.

Sleepless and haggard after the long conferences, he told newsmen last night he was "greatly encouraged by the present government in its determination to eliminate communism."

The Mexican Embassy bulged with leftist and Communist refugees, just as El Salvador's diplomatic home here had been crammed with fugitives from Arbenz's government before the army forced him to resign Sunday night. Other Reds and former government officials holed up in the Argentine Embassy.

Truman's Condition No Longer Critical

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Harry S. Truman's condition was reported as "better" last night although he was described as somewhat tired after a restless day.

The former President's recovery from an emergency operation June 20 has been hampered by an intestinal inflammation. His recovery appeared highly satisfactory for a few days after his gall bladder and appendix were removed in the operation. Then he was harassed by secondary infections and a hypersensitivity to drugs.

Yesterday, however, Dr. Wallace Graham, his personal physician, said he was no longer in a critical stage and that his condition is now "fair, but guarded."

In last night's report, a Research Hospital spokesman said the 70-year-old Truman had been somewhat nauseated and restless but "as a total picture for the day he was perceptibly better."

The hospital report also said "the enteritis (intestinal inflammation) has been somewhat aggravating" and "he has been bothered for short periods intermittently with hiccups."

City Service Crews Kept Busy Conditioning Streets

The city service department's men and equipment are busy grading, ditching and oiling many of Salem streets which have been developed in the past few years but never have been improved, City Service Director James Feiler said today.

The crews are also working patching streets on a street-by-street basis Feiler said doing each street completely so when they are finished they do not have to go back and do patch jobs.

Ten men work on streets in the service department under the supervision of Director Feiler and Street Commissioner Oscar McCammon. Three men comprise a city electrical crew.

The city has 14 pieces of equipment in the service department a large and a small roller, a grader and high lift two pickup trucks, one line truck and one pickup in the electrical department and five dump trucks.

Most recently added piece of equipment has been an oil tanker truck used to oil dirt streets and alleys.

This truck was made by the department crew from two older trucks which were replaced. The oil tank used previously was on a trailer.

Also reconditioned by the crew is an air compressor used with pneumatic tools which used to be mounted on a truck bed. The compressor is now on its own trailer and can be pulled by any of the department's trucks.

All city trucks are now equipped with blinker lights, turn signals and fire extinguishers as required by law, the service director said.

"That won't wipe out the debt," said the judge.

Ike Gets Reciprocal Trade Agreement Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress has sent President Eisenhower a bill to continue the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act for another year. The 20-year-old law died June 12.

Congressional action on the bill was finished yesterday. Most of the authority for negotiation of new trade pacts has been used up, but the law still would permit the working out of a trade agreement with Japan.

GEORGETOWN, Ohio (AP)—James William Alley, 46, a teacher for 19 years, was selected as superintendent of Brown County schools at a special meeting of the board of education last night. He has taught at Addyston, Mt. Orab, Delphos, Franklin and Bethel, Ohio.

Congress Highlights

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders of both parties muster all available voting strength in advance of showdown balloting on a Democratic-sponsored proposal to cut individual income taxes.

GOP strategists count noses at a party caucus to see whether they can beat the Democratic amendment to the administration's tax revision bill. It seems likely they'll offer a substitute income tax proposal of their own if they become convinced the Democratic move has good chances of success.

The administration bill would cut individual and corporate taxes nearly 1½ billion dollars in its first year of operation. It would not, however, change any major tax rates.

FARM — The House opens debate on the most controversial proposal in President Eisenhower's legislative program — a plan to substitute flexible farm prices supports for the high, rigid props now in effect. The House considers a bill, voted by its Agriculture Committee, which rejects the President's proposal. However, administration forces fight for Eisenhower's plan on the House floor.

FOREIGN AID — House consideration of the administration's 3½-billion-dollar foreign aid program nears the voting stage. Prospects are that cuts will run slightly over 100 million dollars. The House will formally ratify a decision made yesterday to retain an allotment of 800 millions for non-Communist forces in Indochina.

McCARTHY-ARMY — Senators who investigated the McCarthy-Army row meet for a report on why two Senate Investigations subcommittee employes haven't been cleared to handle secret defense Department documents. The question is whether the two men — who haven't been identified — have been denied clearance or whether a check on them hasn't been completed.

War Veteran's Body Is Packed In Cement

ONARGA, Ill. (AP)—A war veteran's body will be buried tomorrow in a slanting tomb and packed with cement but no one in Onarga knows why.

Frank Grove, 69, a soldier in the war with Spain, the Mexican border expedition and World War I, died yesterday in a soldiers home in Washington.

A decade ago he built a tomb standing at a 45-degree angle. He often showed the tomb with pride to his friends but none of the elderly Onarga residents recalls why he built it on an angle.

Elmer Natterstad, Onarga mortician, said he has been instructed to remove the body from the casket, wrap it up in canvas and encase the body in fresh cement. He said he will carry out the instructions.

The tomb has this inscription: "He was well born and is sealed in cement beneath."

Movie Stunt Man Is Nipped By Shark

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Movie stunt man Frank Donahue has been busy all week catching sharks. Finally one caught him.

With his bare hands he caught more than 60 sharks off Santa Monica Bay, only to find that they were too small. He tossed them all back since he needed a fish at least seven feet long as a wrestling partner in a movie scene.

Yesterday he jumped off his boat and swam around. Sharks swam close as usual. Donahue grabbed the tail of the nearest one and flipped it onto the boat deck. Then he climbed aboard for a look.

The boat rocked. Donahue slipped and fell against the flopping shark. It bit deep into his right elbow and forearm.

He went to a hospital for treatment.

Alliance Parking Project Approved

ALLIANCE — A three - point program designed to solve Alliance's downtown parking woes by providing off-street parking space for 147 cars has been approved by Cty Council a tthe request of Mayor Harley R. Ewing.

The program calls for the erections of a 72-car parking building on a lot on E. Market St. just east of the postoffice and the conversion of adjacent areas into metered parking lots to accommodate 197 cars.

Mayor Ewing said the entire program will cost about $125,000. Council already has passed an ordinance providing for the issuance of $50,000 in municipal notes in anticipation of the total $125,000 bond issue needed to finance the project.

The city is presently calling for bids on the proposed six - story parking building which is expected to cost an estimated $64,500.

Highway Fines, Forfeits Must Be Spent On Roads

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Municipalities can use money from fines and bond forfeitures in highway patrol traffic cases only for highway purposes, Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill ruled Tuesday.

His opinion to the state board of tax appeals stemmed from an application by the village of Portage, Wood County, to transfer funds.

The village asked authority to shift $15000 from the motor vehicle license fund to the village general fund where it could be used for general purposes. The village said it had a $23,253 surplus in motor vehicle funds, which includes license revenue distributions and money from fines and bond forfeitures.

Navy Will Modify Airplane Catapults

NEW YORK (AP) — The Navy will modify the plane-launching catapults on all but two aircraft carriers as a result of the May 26 explosion aboard the carrier Bennington. The disaster cost more than 100 lives.

A Navy official said yesterday all carriers affected by the modification plan have catapults operated on a hydraulic principle, except the Intrepid and the Hancock, which have steam catapults.

Although no official cause for the Bennington disaster has been announced, the Navy believes the explosion and the fire started in the catapult.

Freedom Is Never Cheap

Between the lines of official statements and the words of men making them can be found this significant fact about foreign policy:

The potential allies of the United States in a possible atomic war with the Soviet Union are more afraid of this country than they are of Russia.

All are either within easy reach of Russian bombers, or within easy seizure of Russian troops. All are plagued within their own political structures by strong Communist factions.

As they see it, they would have everything to lose and nothing to gain if war occurred, and they look upon the anti-Communist attitude of the United States as the principal threat of war.

They believe if the United States would quit being belligerently anti-Communistic they could get along with the Communist conspiracy. They believe — and with good cause — that the men in the Kremlin have everything to gain and nothing to lose by keeping the rest of the world on the brink of war but never getting into war.

This is why Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Secretary Eden talked with President Eisenhower and State Secretary Dulles. They wanted to be told that the alliance between the United States and Britain could be preserved without restricting British efforts to reach an understanding with the Communist conspiracy not only in southeastern Asia but in Europe and perhaps even in Latin America.

This is why the foreign policy of the United States is floundering; it is being adjusted to the realization this country either must overcome misgivings about a strong anti-Communist policy or be prepared to stand alone in a showdown with the Soviet Union.

Out of the confusion will emerge a stronger-than-ever determination to oppose the Communist conspiracy — alone, if necessary.

In this clash of ideologies, the United States is the worldwide center of hope in a revolution against despotism that burst into flame in 1776 and never has been extinguished.

It does not blame other countries for being nervous about the risks of striking another blow for freedom. But they are infinitely to be preferred to the muzzle and the whip.

This preference has been the basic foreign policy of the United States since 1776. It will continue despite all temporary misgivings and word-weltering.

Human freedom is never for sale cheap. The despots keep the price high to discourage the half-hearted from getting what they don't deserve.

Fiscally Yours

When federal finances were simpler than they are now, the end of the U.S. Treasury's year always was signalized with comment and conclusion-jumping.

But the ever-growing complexities of budgets that cannot be understood and sums that cannot be comprehended have put a blight on fiscal comment. The end of the fiscal year 1954 on June 30 will be marked by gladness or sadness only in exclusive groups of financiers and tax experts. There will be no conclusion-jumping.

It is called a fiscal year, incidentally, because the original container for money was a basket called a "fiscus." Thus, a fiscal year is a financial year. The U. S. government's financial year runs from July 1 to July 1, instead of from Jan. 1 to Jan. 1. This adds an awkword handicap to the burden of Congress, which is supposed to have all money matters in order by July 1 — and never does. It also keeps the whole process of federal finance so off balance that even the experts do not know most of the time how things are going.

But in a general way, things are going in the direction of a reduced rate of deficit spending as fiscal 1954 ticks away its last monetary moments. The federal government isn't going into debt as rapidly as it was a year ago, when it finished its fiscal year with a 9.4-billion-dollar shortage in its funds.

On the other hand, it isn't getting out of debt, either. It seems unlikely the government will make any motions in that direction, because Congress is more determined to cut taxes than it is to cut spending.

But the Eisenhower administration is just as interested in cutting spending as taxing. It is making slow, painful progress in this direction. It has checked inflation and set aside the practice behind the cynical slogan: Spend and elect.

At the close of fiscal 1954, federal financing is in the hands of conservative financiers.

A revolver, handcuffs an dtwo holsters were reported missing at a Mendon, Mass., police station. Have they looked in any of the cells?

Happiness seems to mean forgetting the past and trusting the future.

Churchill's Errors

By DAVID LAWRENCE

American Idealism Ignored By British Leader

Sir Winston Churchill came and he spoke — and he made a profound impression. It would be wrong to say he "conguered" the criticism or opposition here, because there still is a wide gap which requires further explanation and perhaps extended debate.

Basically the British Prime Minister revealed more of his point of view in his answers to questions in his talk to the Washington correspondents than he did in the carefully worded document issued from the White House as a joint statement with President Eisenhower.

The Churchill philosophy in brief is this: Why not try reasoning some more with the Soviet government? Why not try to open more contacts with the Russians and hope that this will mean a realization by the Russian people of the benefit that are enjoyed by the people on this side of the Iron Curtain?

It is a tempting formula, and there is a plausible logic behind such an approach. The trouble, however, is that it has been tried and found wanting. Again and again since 1945 the western powers have endeavored to reason with the Communists or have made concessions in the hope of gaining something reciprocal.

THE END RESULT has been disappointing, and the Communists today are marching to victory after victory as they add more and more millions of people to their sphere of domination.

What the British Prime Minister says, in effect, is that, despite previous setbacks, it is the duty of the free world to go on trying for peace through reason. But he adds a word, "vigilance." This means he wouldn't let his guard down. It explains what he meant when he said: "We will press forward with plans for collective defense."

The difficulty with the Churchillian phrase "peace with strength" is that America is expected to furnish all the strength while the Communists refuse to furnish any of the peace.

The British and French see no risk in temporizing with Communism and trying to postpone a world showdown.

The dangers of such a strategy are greater for the United States than for any other nation because the stakes are bigger for America.

The Prime Minister on his visit here has won the respect and admiration of the newspapermen as he has won the affection and and regard of the President and the secretary of state but the situation has passed beyond personalities. Neither "Ike" nor "Winnie" can by themselves settle anything any more.

THE PUBLIC OPINION of the United States and the public opinion of Great Britain are as far apart as the poles on certain basic issues. The American people feel hurt by the manner in which great ideals have been trampled upon.

To tell the fathers and mothers of 40,000 American boys who were killed in Korea — even before a peace settlement has been arranged — that it is timely to take the Red Chinese unto our bosoms is to make a nation of skeptics the next time that someone preaches idealism when American troops are besought to enter a foreign war.

The British officials have completely misconstrued the American temper. The policies they advocate can only force isolationism on America in the end.

If "peaceful coexistence" is so near and so practical, why should several American divisions of troops stay in Europe? Why shouldn't they be brouht home so that some of the "fun" for the Russian people, to which the Prime Minister referred in his talk here, might be forthcoming also to the American taxpayers who are footing the bills?

It could be that Sir Winston is right and that the Russian people would welcome the benefts of a higher standard of living, but is this something either Great Britain or the United States can confer upon the people of the Soviet Union? Isn't that something which the rulers in the Kremlin will decide as they continue their restrictions on the national economy even while they build up armament?

How much influence can the Allies have on internal policies in Russia if they repudiate the "liberation" philosophy expressed so ably by Secretary Dulles?

AMONG THE TOPICS discussed by the President and the Prime Minister is the possible veto by Britain of the use of the atom bomb or hydrogen bomb by the United States in time of war. The British want Ameria to "consult" before dropping a bomb. There is no evidence as yet that the Communists will "consult" anybody before they drop one, and there may not be time to have a parliamentary debate or a huddle tin London if certain American cities have been destroyed.

The logical answer is: "Consult, yes, if there is time, but the United States must retain a free hand to retaliate as she can if an attack is made directly on the territory of this country."

Because of the many grave problems that have been tackled forthrightly in the Churchill-Eisenhower conference, it is a good thing that the exchange of views has occurred, but the fundamental viewpoints have not been altered very much — and future events alone can test whether a further try at "reasoning" with the Communists will yield any result.

Certainly there can be no objection to more talk — provided the Communists don't gobble up a few more Latin American countries and more territory in Southeast Asia while the Western Allies are pleading with Satan to be reasonable.

Meet The Urbalites

By TRUMAN TWILL

Experts probably have figured this out too, but in all densely populated areas there is a new sociological pattern that anyone can see from a speeding car with one eye closed.

It is Americans living in the country without being countrymen —living on farms without being farmers—making part of their living from agriculture without being agriculturalists.

When the Census Bureau made its latest roundup in 1950, it armed its agents in advance with a rule that said any rural place of three or more acres was a farm. The agents had to forget that nonsense in a hurry because they encountered hundreds of thousands of rural places with more than three acres of ground that were not farms because the people who lived on them were not farmers.

There is no name for people who live this way. They are not urbanites, because they do not live in the city; they live in the country. They are not ruralites because they do not make the main part of their living in the country, although they live there the main part of their lives.

They are a little of each—urbalites. They are beyond the reach of water and sewage systems. But they are within range fo good roads, telephone systems and electric power systems. Their view windows look out on fields and meadows. They may have and frequently do have cows, horses, pigs, chickens and farm machinery.

But they are not dependent on agriculture. They just like the country.

Most of them have acquired a rural point of view, to some degree. One hour's toil in a weed patch is enough to convince them that farmers don't get any free rides compared with the work-done-value-received formula of other workers. Their education begins with perspiration.

Many town - employed people working in the country during their spare time have country-employed neighbors working in town during their spare time. It makes the same difference, which is no difference at all.

What it adds up to is a way of living that never has been classified. It is a blending of town and country environments that eventually is bound to have important economic, sociological and political effects.

Both as an actuality and as a sign of a trend it foreshadows a time when the Bureau of the Census will have to divide the population three ways instead of two—rural, urban and urbal.

The urbals have mud on their shoes and cinders in their ears. They can breathe smog and fresh air with the same relish. They follow the stock market and the livestock market with equal interest.

Confused Ideologies

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

When countries are allied to each other, it is necessary for them to understand each other. They need to recognize not only that there are differences in approach and manner but also that where there are apparent similarities, the end objectives may not be the same. That the United States is misunderstood is obvious from the increasing neutralism.

Sokolsky

John J. McCloy, after he had served his term as high commissioner for Germany, said:

"The advantages of the American system and its departures from the backward capitalism which has in the past characterized European life are largely unknown among the rank and file of Socialists of Europe. Moreover, the very fact that the American economy has been successful in distributing its advantages in a classless manner stirs some of the doctrinaire Socialists into a sort of ideological excitement of antagonisms that cannot be ignored.

"This is one of the basic problems facing American representation abroad and it is one which must be dealt with."

THE SOCIALISTS to whom McCloy refers are anti-Communists and should be our allies. They cannot believe that the United States has achieved its high productivity in a classless society because they have never witnessed such a society.

In Asia, the misunderstanding is even greater. When it is stated that we employ more than 60,000,000 people without exploitation, that our wage scale even in industrial establishments is equivalent to upper middle-class annual earnings, that laborers own their own automobiles, electrical refrigerators, television sets, etc., it is not believed because it has not been experienced in those countries.

In Buddhist countries, this lack of belief is complicated by a worship of poverty. Men's souls are not saved by the possession of material things but by the rejection of material things. Did not Gautama himself give up the wealth of a prince to sit under a banyan tree, beggar's cup in hand?

How to state the American case so that it will be understood is not anything that can be reached by a snap formula. McCloy faced the difficulty when he said:

"This thinking has cut deep into areas where one would imagine that America would find widest understanding. I have in mind particularly the European Socialists, who have developed a certain coolness toward the United States. This is disturbing because the Socialist movement is old and established in Europe and because large segments among the Socialists are liberal minded individuals."

IN THE UNITED STATES today there is no effective Socialist party unless the Americans for Democratic Action is regarded as such. The old Norman Thomas Socialists have disappeared. With the exception of the Rand School and the magazine, "The New Leader," no Socialist voice exists. The Socialist Labor party has become a fractional splinter group of no significance.

The ADA, while it gives the general impression of being somewhat like the Fabian Socialists of Great Britain, controls no political party and has a voice in Congress only as a faction of the Democratic party.

ADA Democrats and liberal Republicans are so close to each other that it is impossible to distinguish between them in ideas, just as conservative Democrats and Republicans are normal American traditionalists. Actually, the line of demarcation between the parties in the United States is political rather than ideological.

Thus the European finds it extremely difficult to understand what the American political system really is. The European Socialist parties in Europe are old and established and respectable.

The word Socialist appended to a political party's name is not descriptive of radicalism; it might even denote a fairly conservative party which bases itself on social consciousness rather than on Marxism.

FOR INSTANCE, in France, the great party of the "Third Republic," the party that is now in power under Pierre Mendes-France, and whose leaders included such figures as Edouard Herriot, Rene Mayer, Henri Queuille, and Edouard Daladier, goes by the name of the Radical Socialist party.

By our standards this party would be regarded as fairly conservative, about in the center between the Communists and the DeGaullists. In Italy, the Social movement is faithful to the memory of Mussolini.

The point is that names do not count; only ideas are descriptive of men's purposes and methods.

The Europeans are as puzzled about our politics as about our social and economic systems and shy away from what they do not understand.

Seaway Problems

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Now that the St. Lawrence Seaway is approved and beyond controversy, the ports on the Great Lakes are facing t many problems that lie before them.

During a visit to some of the cities along the lakes I found great optimism tempered by a serious acceptance of the many tasks that still lie ahead. It is the realization of a great dream — a very old dream renewed from time to time and interrupted by many a harsh awakening.

It was regarded as a glittering possibility as long ago as the beginning of this century but wars, depressions, and the clash of many interests checked definitive action by Congress.

It is probably that the balance in its favor was tipped by several circumstances.

First, there was the opening of new sources of iron ore, that life blood of the north mid-west.

AS THE MESABI and other fields in the Superior region began to fade, the interests of Cleveland and other lake cities turned toward Labrador. Indifferent support turned to almost desperate advocacy of a seaway.

There were also the tremendous requirements of the cold war, and a new appreciation of what a hot war might mean to our economy. As the peril to our industrial centers was becoming more obvious, Canada was growing to major proportions as an industrial and commercial nation.

Canada practically drew the issue. Either we would participate or she would go it alone, Eisenhower proposed, and for once Congress disposed.

There can be little doubt about the benefits to a city such as Cleveland. Its variegated industries already sell a goodly percentage of their products abroad. Every industrialist with such market anticipates substantial increases.

THE SHIPPING from Labrador alone in vessels designed for lake commerce and ocean-going ships made over will be very considerable. Competition for this rich commerce will be keen among the lake ports.

Some of the more restrained of the promoters of the seaway in these cities are offering important and, if heeded, wholesome suggestions.

One is that trade is a two-way affair. There is plenty of prospect that a much greater volume of American goods will be going abroad than before. But what are we going to take in our markets of foreign goods in the returning ships?

How far from the lake ports will the influence of this new commerce extend? The answer is that it will not be so far as some of the optimists claim.

HOW WILL the essential character of these ports in the Inland Empire be fundamentally changed? For as the Army Engineers say, only 25 per cent of the commerce traveling the new seaway will be foreign.

All in all, the new seaway is going to be a very substantial benefit to all the lower lake ports. For that, the people there are duly grateful.

It may be an anticlimax to add that politically this will help Republican prospects in the Midwest this fall. Republican candidates and the President himself can say that, after all those bitter years of frustrated hopes, it was a Republican president and Congress that turned the trick.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Letter From A Kiddie-Camp

("Investigations of summer children's camps in New York State, said to be under Communist control, are being made." (News item.)

Dear Mommer: I am having a fine time here. We are learning to swim, row boats and to dislike the American system through daily schedules. The camp is on a big lake and each morning before we take swimming lessons an instructor gives us a lecture. He says a man named Lenin introduced swimming and that the diving board was invented by somebody named Stalin.

We went fishing yesterday. We used red poles, red lines and red floats. There was a lecture on a fish called the sturgeon. The man said it laid eggs called caviar. He said there were no sturgeon in American lakes, due to Wall Street.

I went out in a canoe. The instructor said the canoe was invented by a Russian named Ivan. Tomorrow he is going to tell us about the Russian who invented the paddle.

The food in camp is very good. We get something called bortsch. The man says I must eat red cabbage with sour cream if I expect to get a merit badge. A funny thing happened today. We did not get any lunch. The man told me the cook ha staged a walkout. The waiters wear blouses and leather boots. There are a lot of mosquitoes here but the man says they will be wiped out under a five-year plan.

At the camp I went to last year we were organized in groups. At this camp they are called cells. I am trying to be a cell leader. We had games yesterday and I won a race and got a hammer. If win tomorrow I get a sickle. We were supposed to get up baseball teams but the man says he is giving us voice-throwing and marching.

In a test today I fnished second in voice throwing. I shouted "Down with the dirty capitalists" lounder than any boy in the camp.

I got a bad sunburn and went to the camp doctor, but he would not do anything because he liked the color.

My camp leader likes me very much. He is teaching me to play chess. He says if I am good he will tell me all about a great man called Karl Marx.

He told me about a lot of new games for children. One is called Double Cross. Thursday will be Veto Day at camp, whatever that is. He says the veto is great fun. Willie Grummet who came to camp with me got sent home.

He told me about a lot of new games for He violated a frontier or something. He also had a merit badge taken away for playing with a boy named McCarthy. The McCarthy boy disappeared very suddenly on a walk with the camp director. Well, it is all good fun and I am feeling well, mommer, and hope you are the same.

Love,

Wilbur.

P.S.—Send me some invisible ink. My next letter may come in code which I am learning here.

Guy Lombardo, long famed as a musician and speedboat man, can now add "producer" to his accomplishments, since his Jones Beach show is a big hit. They are now calling him Guy Scheherazade.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Out near Jupiter Light, Florida's easternmost point, about 200 miles south of the "Fountain of Youth", and just north of the state's 'Gold Coast", 600 acres have been cleared and landscaped for some who don't have their youth, nor do they have gold.

Victor Riesel

Only a few of the nation's 13,000,000 persons now over 65 years of age will be able to settle on these 600 acres. But those few will be modern pioneers, though they come to this frontier by DC-7s and Constellations.

On this ground just north of West Palm Beach, Fla., a union—Sal Hoffman's Upholsterers Inc. — ternational Union of North America (AFL), with headquarters in Philadelphia — soon will build the first self-contained, self - governing retirement village for labor peope and their wives.

This, however, will not be a small city limited only to an elderly generation. Sociologists and geriatric specialists point out that old folks not only resent but suffer from isolation in their own age bracket.

THE UNION OFFICIALS, well advised by a panel of 20 medical and sociological experts, will also encourage migration to their village of members below retirement age.

The community is being prepared now. Sewerage and water systems are going into the ground. By November, at the latest, work will start on an administration building, a convalescent and rest home, and the first group of cottages.

This union project is going up at a cost which is a contractor's dream. When Sal Hoffman's people first went down to Florida, word leaked out that the union was set to build a village worth 5 million dollars. "Con" men flocked in with a thousand schemes. However, the upholsterers called the local AFL construction trades unions for help and advice.

The AFL groups set up a special advisory labor committee consisting of most of the business agents of all the unions in West Palm Beach County. These experts — and that they are—checked construction and material costs, the quality of supplies delivered and the efficiency and skill of installation. The Upholsterers Union was saved the nightmares which haunt many of the nation's building contractors.

HOFFMAN AND his colleagues are paying as much attention to the human elements as to the physical. They went to Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, U.S. Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, and won her support.

She approved the appointment of Dr. Cletus Krag, of the U. S. Public Health Service, as chief medical advisor to the union, whose officials came away with the impression that Mrs. Hobby believes this experiment is an important step in caring for a segment of our population which is growing at a geometric rate.

Only 3,000,000 of the over-65-year - old group is working, it should be pointed out. Furthermore, Mrs. Hobby's department disclosed last month that the "Average length of life in the U.S. has reached a record high of 68½ years, a gain of nearly four years in the past decade."

Women are outliving men by six years. Their average lifetime expectancy is 71.8 years, and with the swift pace of medical progress, these age averages will continue to go up.

THIS PIONEER PROJECT may set the pattern for all labor, which is watching the experiment. The development will be completely autonomous. This has been guaranteed by the Forida authorities after long negotiations. It will be self contained — and the payment of rent for the cottages will include coverage by hospital and medical insurance as well as by the services of the light and water utilities.

When the first 50 couples now being sought by the union to open the community settle down, they will be cared for by the professional medical and social workers assigned full time. But no lives will be guided. No views imposed.

This first and only project of its kind is an experiment by a union which seeks to give its older people a city of their own, which seeks to ease the welfare problem of many a community, which seeks to start a movement easing the job crisis, perhaps

Here will be no isolation. Here will be a place in the sun for those who've worked their allotted time.

Laraine's Day

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The marital romance of movie star Laraine Day and Leo Durocher, manager of the New York Giants baseball club is a victory of later love over dislike at first sight.

The first time Laraine, who looks like the girl every man hopes to wed, met Leo was in one of those velvet skip-rope Manhattan night clubs.

"Everybody crowded around to talk to him as if he were important," she recalled. "I didn't know who he was, but I certainly did dislike him."

The feling was so strong that two years later, when Laraine saw Leo boarding a plane on which she was a passenger, she hoped he wouldn't sit by her because she dreaded having to talk to him. But Leo sat down and did most of the talking.

"I looked over at him after a while," said Laraine, "and suddenly thought to myself, 'This is the man I'm going to marry.' He didn't know it—but I did."

"Soon after that they were married.

As a girl Laraine hated baseball so much that she would umpire a game at school to keep from having to play it. But today she watches some 77 baseball games a year.

"It's making a nervous wreck of me," she said. "I don't feel like an average fan. Winning and losing affects our lives. It's our future.

"When we lose a game, I'm much more upset than Leo. He doesn't bring the game home with him.

"If the Giants win, we take in a movie. We never go out after he loses a game. But it's not because he feels miserable.

"He says, 'People always ask you how you lost—they never ask you how you won. But if you've lost a game, there is no point in losing it over and over again.'"

Laraine, who recently completed a leading role in "The High And The Mighty," has adjusted her film career so as not to let it conflict with the job of being Mrs. Durocher.

She makes a picture a year, acts in four television dramas, serves as a panelist on the TV program "I've Got a Secret." But she goes to spring training with Leo, attends every home game here, and when the team takes to the road flies out to their California home to be with their children, Chris and Michele.

"Before I married Leo I wanted to win an academy award," she said. 'Now all I want is for us to win the pennant. My work is secondary."

Laraine has done a wonderful public relations job for her husband's ball club. She is popular with the players and their wives. The sports writers like her, and the wives of the sports writers like her, too, for her pleasant, honest, friendly manner. In the jealous world of baseball her task hasn't been easy. Laraine has won out by being simply what she is—a good wife who backs her husband all the way.

"People who meet Leo for the first time are always surprised to find out he isn't a roughneck," she said, "Why, Leo dresses beautifully, and he is always gracious and charming.

"That may sound like I'm in love with him. But I don't always agree with his baseball strategy. The thing about Leo is that he can talk you out of a game. He could be a success at anything he went into."

Laraine is credited by the sports writers with putting much of the present polish on her rhinestone-in-the-rough. She herself feels the many stories of his truculence are exaggerated sport- world myths.

With her, gently does it. The best part of the year is the winter period in their new home in Beverly Hills, which has a soda fountain in the den.

"Leo loves ice cream," she said. 'I serve him a banana split for lunch, and a thick chocolate milk shake in the afternoon. In the evening he likes a variety of sundaes."

Nobody pitches harder for Durocher today than the girl who looked at him in an airplane seven years ago and suddenly realized he was her world.

TAX OFFICIAL RETURNS

CINCINNATI (AP) — George E. Neal, 64, regional commissioner of the Internal Revenue Service, retires today after more than 41 yars of tax work for the government. T. Coleman Andrews, commissioner in Washington, announced Norman B. Echelman, Neal's assistant, would be acting commissioner.

Churchill Will Discuss U. S. Talks With Canadian Leaders

OTTAWA (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill meets today with Canadian government leaders to describe his Washington conferences and to explain disagreements over policy between Britain and the United States.

Any policy differences between the two major Western allies are of supreme importance to Canada.

For while this country is a member of the British Commonwealth and strongly tied to Britain in many ways, it also is powerfully influenced by the pull of American policy. Hence Canadians hope at all costs to avoid a situation which might force them to choose between widely divergent British and American policies.

Perhaps recognizing this, Churchill said yesterday, "Canada is the master link in Anglo-American unity."

He made the statement as he landed at a military airport in Ottawa, coming from Washington.

The capital gave him a 19-gun salute and full honors at the airport and in front of the hotel where he spent the night. He looked tired, but smiled and flashed his V gesture.

On the whole, Churchill will probably find considerable Canadian support for the positions he took in Washington.

Canadans say their government would not favor a Southeast Asian counterpart of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization — at least now — because they do not feel Canada can undertake any more military commitments. Canadian troops are servin both in Korea and in Germany.

On the question of recognizing Red China, too, Canadian opinion, as described by officials in Ottawa, runs closer to the London line than to Washington's.

Canadian officials, like the British, tend to take the view that the Communists are in fact in conrol of China, overning it now, and likely to stay for the foreseeable future. Hence they generally believe the Red regime should be recognized officially.

In the same way, they tend to favor further attempts at what Churchill called in Washington "a patient, cool, friendly examination of what the Russian intentions are.'

'GOOD OLD WINNIE'.—British Prime Minister Winston Churchill responds with the "V for Victory" sign he made a trade mark during World War II as spectators at his arrival shout "Good Old Winnie," in Washington. The 79-year-old veteran of several wars and many historic diplomatic conferences appeared in good spirits and health despite the two strokes he has suffered in the past four years. He's here for a week end of talks with President Eisenhower to smooth out relations between the U. S. and Great Britain.

Churchill

that the Eisenhower - Churchill statement of principles "leaves completely unanswered the pressing problem of the developing fall of Viet Nam behind the Iron Curtain."

Churchill and Eisenhower said in a statement Monday they had agreed to "press forward" with plans for a free nation alliance in Southeast Asia. But indications were that this would be preliminary planning only, and that the British were sticking to their position that no formal steps should be taken until the outcome of French-Communist peace talks on Indochina.

The United States had taken the position that an international conference to draw up such an alliance should be called at once.

Further discussion on plans for a Southeast Asian anti-Communist alliance was expected at a meeting of the Anzus Council—an organization created by the 1951 Mutual Defense Treaty among Australia, New Zealand and the United States. The meeting was requested by Australia's minister of external affairs, Richard G. Casey, whose government is pressing for speed in bringing a Southeast Asian alliance into existence.

and ruled Oppenheimer was loyal but a security risk.

As the commission majority saw it, the issue was whether it was in the interest of national security to let Oppenheimer se "some of the most vital secrets in the possession of the United States.'

"Substantial defects of character and imprudent and danerous associations, particularly with known subversives who place the interests of foreign powers above those of the United States, are also reasons for disqualification," said the report, and it added:

". . . We find Dr. Oppenheimer is not entitled to the continued confidence of the government and of this commission because of the proof of fundamental defects in his 'character' . . .

"We find that his associations with persons known to him to be Communists have extended far beyond the tolerable limits of prudence and self-restraint which are to be expected of one holding the high positions that the government has continuously entrusted to him since 1942."

Tension had eased at Eagle Pass when the crest of 53.6 feet passed yesterday at 4:30 a.m. but concern continued for Piedras Negras' 35,000 residents. State disaster and relief control headquarters estimated from 20,000 to 30,000 homeless there.

Ohio's Penny Gas Tax Revenue High

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's new penny gasoline tax, one of two major measures designed to finance a half-billion dollar state highway improvement program, is yielding more revenue than anticipated.

State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy estimated today revenue from the new tax "will be in excess of 26 million dollars per year.' Sponsors of the levy had estimated an annual yield of between 22 and 23 millions.

Tracy said collections for the fiscal year totaled $20,187,174. But he noted collections began last July 16 instead of July 1, start of the fiscal year, and that it takes about two months for revenues actually to reach the treasurer's office.

The half-month loss in the fiscal year and the two-month lapse on receipts, Tracy said, "mean that an additional five million dollars will be realized when the tax is collected upon a complete fiscal year.'

Revenues from the new axle tax on trucks, the other half of the highway improvement financing program, will not be determined for another week or 10 days, Tracy said. Revenue from the axle tax for the first six months of its operation aggregated $5,259,849, he reported.

The tax applies to trucks with more than two axles according to the miles they travel in Ohio.

Cleveland's 5-1 Win Snaps Baltimore's Victory Streak

Houtteman Hurls Five-Hitter; Al Rosen Back On Third Base

BALTIMORE (AP)—Al Rosen was back on third base for the Cleveland Indians last night when they snapped a five-game Baltimore Oriole winning string on Art Houtteman's five-hitter, adding a half game to their lead over second-place Chicago.

Manager Al Lopez put Vic Wertz on first base for the Tribe in what he called an "experimental move." Rosen had played first since April 25.

Lopez said he would have moved Rosen back to third earlier, but Al's fractured right thumb, now much better, would have handicapped him on the long throw across the diamond.

So, while the fans are casting their final votes to put Rosen on the All-Star team at first base, he probably will be playing third for the Indians. As long as Wertz does all right at first, he will stay there, Lopez indicated.

The switch worked well last night as both Rosen and Wertz fielded their positions without error and each singled home a run.

Houtteman, who won only nine games against 13 losses for Detroit and Cleveland last year, posted his eighth triumph against four defeats and might have had a shutout if he hadn't walked the first batter to face him. He passed Cal Abrams who went to third when Dick Kryhoski singled for his 19th consecutive game with a safe hit. Abrams scored as Chuck Diering bounced into a double play.

Only one Oriole reached second after the second inning, and that was only because Strickland dropped a throw to second.

The Indians were held hitless by Don Larsen until George Strickland led off the fifth inning by hitting Larsen's first pitch into the left field stands, his fifth homer of the season.

Three Cleveland runs on four hits broke the 1-1 tie in the seventh and sent Larsen to the showers with his eighth defeat against two victories. Jim Hegan led off the inning with a single, and Al Smith doubled. Bob Avila's line single to right scored both runners. Larry Doby fanned and Rosen got an intentional walk. Then Wertz singled Avila home. Mike Blyzka relieved Larsen and cut off the rally.

Doby's double and Rosen's single off Marlin Stuart in the ninth boosted the Tribe's margin by another run.

If Mike Garcia can chalk up his 10th victory tonight against Duane Pillette (5-8), Chicago will have to sweep the four-game series in Cleveland this coming week-end to prevent the Indians from perching in first place on July Fourth.

Furnace Drops Eljer Team 8-3

Fishers Nip Sekely 4-3 In Little League

Fishers nipped Sekely 4-3 and Electric Furnace came from behind to drop Eljer 8-3 in Major Little League action at Centennial Park Tuesday.

A three-run outburst in the top of the final frame gave Fishers its win over Sekely.

Danny Krichbaum was the winning pitcher while Buddy Rottenborn had two hits for Fishers. John Hanna allowed only four hits in taking the loss.

Hanna, Ned Chappel and Chuck Hertel each had two hits for the losers.

A three-run fourth and a four-run fifth inning was sufficient for Furnace's triumph over Eljer.

Paul Herman was the winning pitcher coming up with a neat three-hitter. Woody Deitch, Louis Slaby and Jerry Hockey had two hits apiece for Furnace. Chuck Brown got two of the losers' three hits.

All Major Little League games scheduled for the week of July 5 through July 9 will be postponed until a later date Rusell Stallsmith league general manager announced this morning.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By R. L. LIDE

This week's story comes from a Washingtonville resident.

Mrs. Emma Tunnat was awakened about 3 a.m. by what she thought was the family cat nibbling at her toes. She could feel the fur with her feet. Knowing the back door was left open purposely to let the air circulate on a hot night she did not think too much about it.

But when things began to tumble around in the kitchen later she turned on the light. A large raccoon came toward her and she ran upstairs. The 'coon followed. Her screams awakened her son. He reached for his shotgun. After the animal was killed there were buckshots holes in the congoleum and the dining room floor.

Mrs. Tunnat hesitated to report the incident for fear she had violated a game law, but a person has every right to protect their household from any intruder, be he two or four legged.

THIS WEEK BRINGS to an end the fish removal program at Guilford Lake by the Ohio Division of Wildlife.

The fish have moved into deep water where we cannot get at them. Fish are like humans to a certan extent. When the water temperature gets high they move into deeper pools where it is cooler and in the winter they also move into deep water where it is warmer.

It will be interesting to get the final figures on the number of fish removed and also the poundage. There may not be any sudden benefit to fishing from the first years operation but after a few years of fish removal larger fish should be easier to take with a good portion of the smaller competition removed.

THE GAME CROP looks pretty good for the coming season. There are rabbits most any place from one third to two thirds grown along with the adults which can be observed by any one getting out on the by-ways in the early morning hours.

I saw five rabbits in one group near Summitville.

The first pheasant nest I observed that had hatched was near North Georgetown on the 26th of April. Saturday I observed a hen pheasant with her brood of young not more than two weeks old in Hanover Township. I think the chances of survival are much better among the native hatched birds compared to 12 week old birds penraised and released. At least they know where the food, cover and water is without having to become orientated.

Talking to a farmer near Washingtonville, I asked him about releasing some pheasants on his farm because conditions seemed ideal. He informed me that the pheasants were giving him some trouble now pulling up his corn and he intended to let the hunters cut down on the supply already on his property. Sounds good, anyway.

OBSERVATIONS: More swimmers than fishermen along the creek and Guilford Lake . . . "Litterbugs" using the Bell School road for excessive dumping . . . Fishermen asking me why the fish won't bit. It will take a smarter man than I am to provide the answer. . . Two youngsters riding ponies at Guilford while a St. Bernard dog followed — almost as big as the ponies.

A report just compiled by the Law Enforcement Section of the Ohio Division of Wildlife shows an increase in the number of fishing law violations in the state during the first five months of 1954 as compared to the same period in 1953.

Greatest increase was shown in a resident fishing without a license. For the first five months in 1953 a total of 311 persons were convicted of this charge, while in the corresponding period in 1954 the figure was more than doubled with 641 violations, 349 of them occurring during the month of May.

Other violations reported were: non-resident fishing with a resident license, 65; non-resident fishing without a license, 20; taking frogs during closed season, 15; using more than two poles, 18; and fishing in closed waters, 42. There were some 60 additional violations listed covering some 23 laws.

From January 1, 1954 to June 1, 1954, there were 865 fishermen found not to be law abiding while during the same period in 1953 there were 499. For a full year's sport and relaxation a $2 fishing license is just about the least expensive thing remaining — providing you adhere to the laws after you purchase your license.

FOR THE CONVENIENCE of the fishing public, the Ohio Division of Wildlife now has 63 individual detailed maps of the most popular lakes in Ohio. The maps are available to the public at 10 cents each and may be secured by writing to Ohio Division of Wildlife, 1500 Dublin Road, Columbus, 12, O.

Service Is Salient Stroke For Any Badminton Player

By KEN DAVIDSON
(Second of a Series)

The most important stroke in badminton is the service.

Since you can only score when serving, obviously you must serve well to win.

A "service" is delivered as soon as the shuttle contacts the racket. At the moment of contact the shuttle must be below the server's waist and the head of the racket must not be higher than any part of the hand holding the racket.

Assume a stance near the center service line approximately three feet behind the short service line. Since the service is normally aforehand stroke, the left foot is slightly ahead of the right.

Place your racket back, wrist slightly cocked back, so that it is ready for the forward swing.

Hold the shuttle between the forefinger and thumb of your left hand. Extend your arm out at shoulder height so that you can drop the shuttle well ahead of your body in line with your right foot.

Drop the shuttle. DON'T TOSS IT.

Just open your foreginger and let the shuttle drop straight down.

As you drop the shuttle, simply allow your right arm to swing the racket forward easily to guide the shuttle over the net. The body weight is eased forward from the back foot to the front foot as the serve is being delivered.

Never hurry the serve.

NEXT: The Drop Shot and the Drive.

The correct way to serve is shown by Ken Davidson, authority on badminton and club pro at Banner Lodge. Remember, Drop the shuttle. Don't toss it.

Demings, Leetonia, Lisbon Win Games

The "big inning" was largely the margin of victory in three city softball league tilts played at Kelley Field Tuesday night.

Demings, with a seven-run final frame, upset Bliss 11-3, Leetonia, utilizing an eight-tally fourth stanza, blasted Electric Furnace 15-0 and Lisbon, featuring a 10-counter second canto, rolled over the Old Timers 13-5.

Demings 11, Bliss 3.

The winners broke open a tight battle with a wild 7-run outburst in the bottom of the fifth inning against the slumping Bliss nine.

Demings was leading 4-3 going into the fifth when Bliss' Dick Jackson hit a wild streak, walking three men and hitting two others.

Four successive infield hits with the bases loaded, on which Bliss was able to cut off only one run at the plate, and Ed Duco's slashing double accounted for the runs and the termination of the five-inning contest.

Bliss scored one in the first inning on Harry Ehrhart's double and Walter Woods' single. Demings can back with three tallies in their half of the first on a walk to Duco, three errors and Dempsey Balsley's two-run single. In the third, the winners increased their margin to 4-1 on Wayne Hahn's double and Steve Cibula's three-bagger.

Jackson hits a home run with one mate on in the fourth to round out Bliss' scoring.

Each team had seven hits.

Lisbon 13, Old Timers 5

Andy Cartright's relief pitching and a 10-run second inning brought Lisbon up from behind to take the win from the Old Timers. That 10-run second featured a total of six hits, five walks and a double and a homerun by Andy McDevitt.

Hank Siefke, Cartwright and McDevitt each had two hits for the winners while the losers were limited to only four safeties.

Cartwright, coming in during the first inning, allowed only one hit in the five innings he hurled.

Leetonia 15, Electric Furnace 0

Donnie Bell was the big story of this game, hurling a two-hitter and banging out four hits in four trips himself.

Leetonia scored in every inning but the fifth and last frame, including an 8-run rally in the fourth.

Mims-Dykes Fight Set For Tonight

By WILLIAM O. VARN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Holy Mims, currently second-ranked contender for the world middleweight title, gets an acid test tonight against rangy and ringwise Bobby Dykes.

There appeared little doubt that Mims, a steady-punching Washington Negro, and Dykes, a crafty Texas from San Antonio, would be ready to stage a real scrap in their 10-round bout.

It will be televised at 10 p.m., EDT, by CBS.

Both will be bearing down extra-hard because victory could mean a shot at the world crown now held by tough Bobo Olson of Honolulu.

If Mims wins—and thus clings to his runner-up spot in the National Boxing Assn. list—he will be in perfect position to claim a championship match soon with the winner of the forthcoming Olson-Rocky Castellani go.

And, if Dykes gets the nod and breaks Mims' 10-straight victory string (many think he may do it) Dykes would put himself in a top challenging position.

On the eve of their scrap, Mims was favored at 7-5, but experts predicted the pair would enter the ring at even money or with Dykes possibly holding a slight edge because of his experience.

Dykes, who has been fighting professionally since 1946, has worked his way up from among the better welterweights to a highly respected position in the middleweight class. He has fought more than twice as many bouts as Mims, ringing up 94 victories in 112 tries, 47 of them knockouts. He's lost 13 and fought 5 draws.

Mims has entered the ring 49 times—winning 34, losing 11 and getting 4 draws. Only seven of his victories have been knockouts.

GRANDVIEW OVAL RACES SET

CLEVELAND (AP) — Grandview Oval starts its 42-night trotting pacing meeting tonight with an eight-race card featuring the $2,500 Harness Tracks of America Stake. First post time is 8:30 p. m., EDT, with the daily double windows closing at 8:15. The track's racing surface has been regraded, providing drainage from both sides, and a new top layer of sand and slag.

PILIARIK BEATS COLLINS

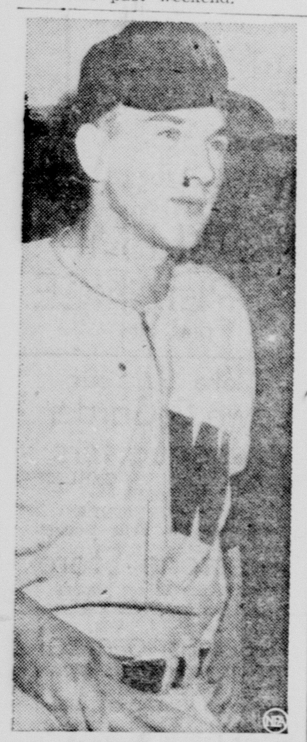

DETROIT (AP)—Sam Piliarik of Saginaw, Mich., knocked out Dick Collins of Sandusky, Ohio, last night in the first round of a scheduled four-round event at Motor City Arena. Piliarik weighed 150, Collins, 148¾.

WINS UNANIMOUS DECISION

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Featherweight Davey Moore of Springfield won an unanimous decision last night over Herky Kamensky of Pittsburgh. Moore staggered Kamensky several times but failed to knock him down. The two fought to a draw here last month.

HOOKS PAIR OF BASS

C. W. Cozad of Salem caught a pair of 14-inch bass at Clendening Lake this past weekend.

$50,000 WORTH — Harmon Killebrew must be something special. Clark Griffith of the Senators paid the Payette, Ida., 17-year-old $50,000 for his signature and prospective potent bat.

MEET WILLIE! — This is Willie Mays, sparkplug centerfielder of the New York Giants, whose play this year is the talk of baseball. He is the spark that has spurred the Giants from a fifth-place finish in 1953 to leadership of the National League as this year's race nears the halfway mark.

Budge Patty To Meet Drobny At Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—The men's singles semifinals took the spotlight today at the Wimbledon Tennis Championships—and the one everybody is talking about here pits America's Budge Patty against Egypt's Jaroslav Drobny.

These two veterans know just about every variation in each other's play. Their last five matches all went five sets and totaled 293 games. They met here last year too, and the battle raged a record 4 hours and 20 minutes before the Czech-born Drobny ousted his Los Angeles rival 8-6 16-18, 3-6, 8-6, 12-10.

If that match isn't enough to satisfy the appetite of the fans, the other semifinal sending top-seeded Tony Trabert of Cincinnati against Australian Davis Cup ace Ken Rosewall should take care of them.

Trabert, the 23-year-old former collegian who hopes to turn professional if he can win this and a couple of more big ones, reached the peak of his game with a straight victory over Mervyn Rose, another Aussie, Monday.

Niles Arden Blasts Washingtonville 6-1

The Washingtonville Boosters went down to a no-hit 6-1 defeat at the hands of Niles Arden Furniture Tuesday in Austintown Colt League play.

Star Washingtonville hurler Jim Campbell came up with a well-pitched game but Niles scored all six of their runs in the first inning on three errors and two hit-batsmen.

Brooklyn Dodgers Defeated 4-3 By New York In Extra Innings

By BEN PHLEGAR

The New York Giants apparently are going to stay in first place until they run out of miracles. So far their supply has seemed almost unlimited.

They pulled another one out of the hat last night, beating their bitter rivals, the Brooklyn Dodgers, 4-3 in 13 innings when Dusty Rhodes delivered a two-out, pinch-hit single with the bases loaded and the Giants a run behind.

It was the 10th time this season that the Giants have won in their last chance at bat.

Three weeks ago yesterday a ninth-inning double by Monte Irvin drove in two runs for a 6-5 victory over Milwaukee. Two days later, still in Milwaukee, rookie Bill Taylor delivered a pinch homer in the 10th for a 1-0 victory that moved the New Yorkers into a first-place tie with Brooklyn.

Nineteen games later they are two lengths in front of the Dodgers. During that time they've won 16 and lost 3, and six of those victories came in the final inning.

Brooklyn twice tried to steal the script last night. Trailing 2-0 after eight innings, the Dodgers kept the game alive as Jackie Robinson singled with one out in the ninth and rode home on Roy Campanella's two-out homer over the left-field grandstand. In the top of the 13th rookie Don Hoak sliced a homer into the nearby right-field seats.

But in their half of the 13th the Giants sandwiched three walks around two outs and Rhodes turned the crowd of 51,464 into a bedlam with his hit up the middle.

Elsewhere in the National League the Chicago Cubs lost their 11th in a row, 7-0 to Milwaukee; Philadelphia whipped Pittsburgh 4-0; and Cincinnati crushed St. Louis 11-4.

Cleveland picked up half a game on Chicago in the American League and now leads the White Sox by two games. The Indians beat Baltimore 5-1 but Chicago had to settle for a split in a twin bill with Detroit, winning 5-0 after losing 10-3. The New York Yankees stayed three games back with a 14-5 triumph at Boston. Philadelphia shaded Washington 3-2.

Art Houtteman of the Indians broke a five-game Baltimore winning streak with a five-hitter. One of the Orioles' hits was a single by Dick Kryhoski, who stretched his streak to 19 games longest in the majors this season.

Detroit jumped ahead of the White Sox in the first game as Harvey Kuenn opened with a home run and the Tigers added a dozen more hits in piling up their seven-run winning margin. Sandy Consuegra checked them on three safeties in the nightcap, which was shortened to eight innings by the league curfew.

Mickey Mantle paced the Yankee assault on the Boston pitching corps with four hits in five times up, including a triple. Harry Byrd, unaccustomed to such robust support, weakened in the closing innings and needed help from Tom Gorman.

Arnold Portocarrero, a likely looking rookie, won his fifth straight for the Athletics with the help of a Washington error by Mickey Vernon and a triple by Bill Renna.

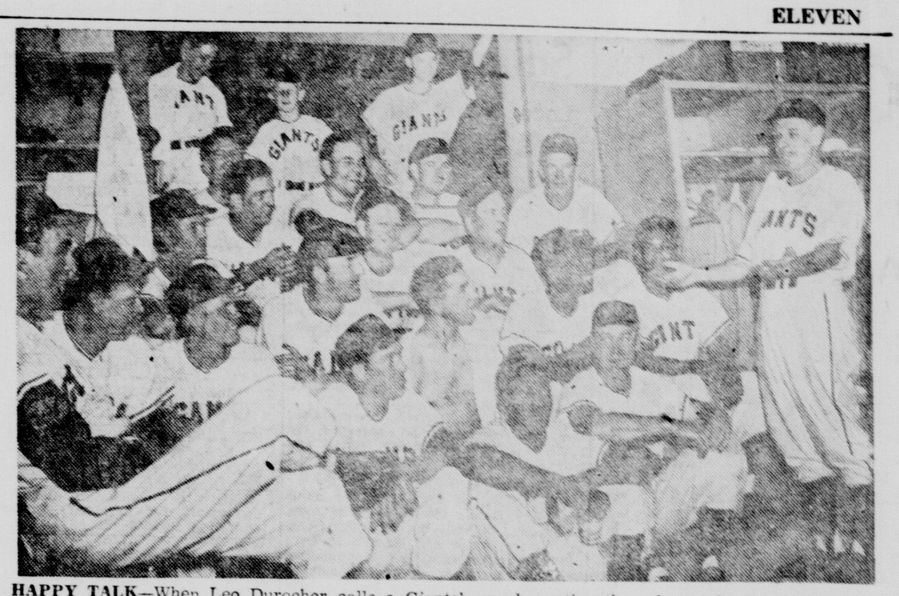

Jim Wilson of the Braves, who was on the market for $10,000 with no takers until he pitched a no-hitter earlier this month, turned in his fifth victory without a loss and his third shutout in beating the hapless Cubs. Eddie Mathews hit his 14th homer.

An inside-the-park home run by Richie Ashburn with two mates on base broke a scoreless tie in the eighth inning at Pittsburgh as Herman Wenmeier pitched a seven-hit shutout.

Stan Musial hit his 24th home run, tying Willie Mays of the Giants for the league lead, but the Cardinals continued to sink deeper into second division. Gus Bell led the Cincinnati attack with a home run and two singles and the Redlegs took advantage of two errors and three hit batsmen.

Drop Continues In Number Of Unemployed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Newly unemployed claimants for unemployment compensation, for the week ending June 26, have dropped to he lowest figure in many weeks—10,564, it was reported today.

The Bureau of Unemployment Compensation (BUC) compared the June 26 figure to 11,394 for the week ending June 19, 12,296 for the week ending June 12, and 12,029 for the week ending June 5.

There was a drop also in the number of claimants unemployed one week or more, but the Buc said these figures do not give a complete picture. Many previously counted in that total may still be unemployed after exhausting their eligibility for 26 weeks of payments. In this category, the total for the week ending June 26 was listed as 96,036 compared to 9,197 for the week ending June 19, 101,170 for the week ending June 12, and 101,844 for the week ending June 5.

For the Akron area (Akron, Barberton), claimants newly unemployed dropped from 512 June 19 to 459 for the week ending June 26; Canton area (Alliance, Canton, Massillon) from 972 to 660; Cincinnati, from 1,743 to 1,552; Cleveland area from 1,866 up to 1,882; Columbus, from 386 up to 388; Dayton, 384 to 321; Toledo, 1,164 to 1,119, and Youngstown, 356 to 293.

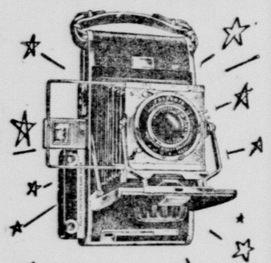

Only minor changes in newly unemployed were reported in other Ohio cities.

In another state report, Margaret A. Mahoney, director of the Department of Industrial Relations, reported a 50 per cent rise in Ohio strike idleness from the previous month sent May "to the probable peak of idleness for 1954."

The 52 Ohio strikes during May involved 42,700 workers, Mss Mahoney said, adding that the industrial relations picture thus far this year parallels 1953 when idleness reached its peak in May. Major strike activity this year has centered in the construction industry, while basic steel and coal have been relatively quiet, she said.

Future Holds Bright Prospects For Consumer, Writer Claims

EDITORIAL NOTE—Sam Dawson, Associated Press business writer, takes a look at what's ahead for business in the last six months of 1954, in the second and last of a two-part review of the state of business and industry this year.

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The consumer—and aren't we all?—can take a sunny view of the rest of the year.

Jobs should be a little easier to find. Wages and fringe benefits in many cases will be a little higher. Work weeks should average closer to 40 hours again—and therefore paychecks will be a little fatter.

It shouldn't cost any more to live, and bargains will be found for the looking. There'll be an abundance of things to buy and salesmen eager to get your trade.

Credit will be easier and money plentiful, in the bank — meaning it'll be easier for you to get into debt. But the interest you pay should be no higher, if as high.

These prospects are based on the widely - held belief that the slide from the war boom is around the bottom now, that after the usual summer doldrums, business in general will start up, noticeably, if moderately.

The layoffs that made the early months of the year a bad time for many American families are coming much less often now. The average work-week has just started to reverse itself and lengthen again.

If businessmen are right in their belief that inventory trimming is about over, a return to normal ordering practices should increase factory production this fall. This would mean you'll work longer weeks or go back to work if laid off.

Hourly wage increases granted this year in some industries will mean fatter paychecks as working weeks lengthen.

So far this year the total paid out in wages and salaries is down from a year ago. But personal income has stayed high nationally because of an increase in other forms of income. Dividend payment totals are higher, and unemployment and pension benefits have increased. Tax cuts also help sweeten take-home pay.

But your chance for further individual tax relief is dim. The federal government continues to operate at a deficit and needs tax revenue. State and local governments, moreover, need to build new roads, schools and hospitals and to meet rising labor and other service costs. They're looking for new ways to tax.

Prices are just as likely to drop as to rise. Merchants and manufacturers have plenty of goods they'd like to sell. Rising cost problems may tempt them to hike prices. Competition and fear of your reaction is more likely to keep them from it. The majority opinion in business and industry is that the present price levels will be largely unchanged at year's end.

Food will be abundant, unless the weather renegs on its present promise, and foods prices will swing seasonally. More meat is coming to market and high-priced pork may take a tumble.

Savings have been running along this year at about the same rate as last, some folk managing to sock a little away in spite of the high cost of living. Savings rates can't be forecast — depending as they do on that intangible, how the consumer feels about spending or waiting.

Another bit of public psychology agitating the forecasters at mid-year—is the public coming into the stock market?

Brokers say there are signs that he is at last. Most of the year's upturn in stock prices has come about through purchasing by regular professionals and by the big investors, such as the industrial pension funds. But recent buying splurges have stock market followers asking if the public isn't beginning to buy now.

TOOLS ARE STOLEN

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Burglars who loaded up a truck with at least a ton of tools were hunted today. An inventory of the Tenney Tool and Supply Co. disclosed tools valued at $12,000 were stolen last Sunday.

DISCUSS MONEY MATTERS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Veterans of Foreign Wars officials will meet here today to discuss money problems. Court action here recently stopped state grants to veterans organizations. The VFW state convention opens tomorrow.

RAIL WRECK SCENE. — Twisted and overturned rail cars line the right-of-way of the Rock Island Railroad near Hallam, Neb., 20 miles southeast of Lincoln, after an eastbound Rocket was derailed injuring an estimated 75 passengers and crew.

College Dean Defends Fraternities, Sororities

CINCINNATI (AP) — Dr. Lillian Johnson, dean of women at the University of Cincinnati, declared today that college fraternities and sororities sometimes are called "match makers" but, she asked, "what's wrong with that?"

Dean Johnson, speaking at the national convention of Theta Phi Alpha sorority, declared "the family in the starting point of stability of developing the well rounded individual."

She added that if campus organizations promote friendships that lead to happy homes, "we need not apologize for it but should capitalize on it."

Dean Johnson warned also that sororities should not be "just social" but should contribute something definite to the members' characters.

SCHOOL OFFICIAL RETIRES

CLEVELAND (AP) — John Calvin Oldt, teacher and school superintendent in greater Cleveland for three decades, died yesterday at 89.
